

Privacy Policy

Privacy Policy for MDT Software Computer Learning Centers, Inc. (Effective February 1, 2010)

This statement discloses the privacy practices for the MDT Software websites and informs you about:

- what personally identifiable information is collected;
- what organization is collecting the information;
- how the information is used and disclosed to third parties;
- what choices are available to you regarding collection, use, distribution, and correction of the information; and
- what kind of security procedures are in place to protect the loss, misuse or alteration of information under the company's control.

"Personal information" is information that would allow someone to identify or contact you, including, for example, your full name, address, telephone number or email address.

This Privacy Policy is incorporated into and subject to the terms of our Terms of Use at www.MDT-Software.com/termsfuse and you agree to be bound by its terms and conditions. This policy only addresses our activities from our servers. Other sites (including those that we link to and third party sites or services which we co-brand, such as email) may have their own policies, which we do not control, and thus are not addressed by this policy.

Introduction

To provide you with the best possible service, MDT Software from time to time may ask for personal information. This policy is to make you aware as to who is collecting the information, what type of information is gathered and tracked, what the information is for, and with whom the information is shared.

Attention: www.MDT-Software.com is the main home page to MDT Software, which has the general privacy policy for the MDT Website. This policy illustrates customer information that could be collected throughout the www.MDT-Software.com Website. It is possible that not all personal information outlined in this policy will be used, but we want you to be aware of our policy and understand our procedures.

Information Gathered and How it is Used

There are areas in which you can browse on the MDT Website without giving us personal information. There are, however, certain elective areas of the MDT Website, where, prior to entry, you will be asked for personal information. This information will be used by MDT Software to correspond with you, provide service and support, present a more personalized experience as you navigate the sites, or supply you with requested information.

With Whom MDT Software Shares Information

Except as specified herein or unless MDT Software has your permission or is required by law, MDT Software will not sell, rent, lease or otherwise provide your personal information to others from ways different than stated in this privacy statement.

Please remember that when you submit information to a discussion group or some other public forum, the information submitted will be deemed public information and will not be considered confidential.

As a general practice, we do not provide your personally identifiable information to third parties. So, for example, we do not sell your email address or your name and personal demographic information to mass marketers. However, by registering on the MDT Website, you may receive emails automatically generated from the MDT Website that are directly related to your activity on the MDT Website and are not used for marketing materials and purposes. In some situations, we share your personally identifiable information with third parties who provide services to our site in order to enhance the functionality available to you on our web site, and to provide you with information on new products and services. Further, in some cases, we use your personally identifiable information to provide information to you, such as to send newsletters to you that you request or to personalize the site in accordance with your requests.

Cookies and Other Technologies

The MDT Website may collect anonymous information from your communication connection itself, which consists of network routing, equipment information like browser type, date, and time. Our system provides to and receives from browser cookies. A cookie is a piece of data stored on the user's computer tied to information about the user.

The data we collect from "Cookie" technology on our site contains no personal information and is used in the aggregate to improve our services, product offerings and Website content.

We also use cookies to keep track of your personalization options so that we can deliver content specific to your interests each time you visit us. These cookies are not tied to your personal information.

We do not offer an opt-out on our site for cookies, however browsers do provide you with information and control over cookies. Although you are not able to disable the cookie feature on this site, you are always free to decline our cookies if your browser permits, but some parts of the MDT Website may not work properly if you do.

Compliance with US-EU Safe Harbor Privacy Principles.

To the extent that the MDT Website is used to collect, process or store personal data belonging to individuals located in, or employed by entities located in, the European Union ("EU Parties"), our handling of that data adheres to the US-EU Safe Harbor Principles ("Safe Harbor"). Although we use reasonable efforts to verify the accuracy of data submitted by users of the MDT Website, users are expected to update their personal information by going to www.MDT-Software when necessary to ensure that their personal data is accurate, complete and current. We are committed to cooperating with data protection authorities located in Europe to resolve and remedy any disputes that arise regarding data connected to individuals located in (or employed by entities located in) Europe.

Links

We occasionally place links to relevant, outside resources within the MDT Website. Be aware MDT Software is not responsible for the privacy practices or the content of such other sites. We encourage you to investigate and ask questions before disclosing information to third parties. If you do not want your information to be used, do not share your information with those sites.

Security

Only employees who need the information to perform a specific job (for example, a customer support representative) are granted access to personally identifiable information. We have established and maintain reasonable security procedures to protect the confidentiality, security and integrity of your personally identifiable information. "Perfect security," however, does not exist on the Internet. Although your privacy is very important to us, due to the existing legal regulatory and security environment, we cannot fully ensure that your private communications and other personally identifiable information will not be disclosed to third parties. For example, we may be forced to disclose information to the government or third parties under certain circumstances, or third parties may unlawfully intercept or access transmissions or private communications. Additionally, in the unlikely event we need to investigate or resolve possible problems or inquiries, we can (and you authorize us to do so) disclose any information about you to private entities, law enforcement or other government officials as we, in our sole discretion, believe necessary or appropriate.

Legal Disclaimer

We reserve the right to disclose your personally identifiable information as required by a court of competent jurisdiction and/or when we believe that disclosure is necessary to protect our rights and/or comply with any judicial proceeding, court order.

Policy Updates

We may update this policy from time to time, to ensure we are using, collecting, and providing information in the same manner that is disclosed. If we decide to use personal information in a manner different than disclosed, we will use reasonable efforts to post any material changes on our MDT home page thirty (30) days before implementing them, thus providing you an opportunity to opt-out, if you determine that you are no longer interested in allowing access to your personal information.